RIBCHESTER ROMAN MUSEUM

The Museum is located in the beautiful Ribble Valley village of Ribchester. It is the only specialist Roman Museum in Lancashire, celebrating its centenary in 2014.

The recently extended Museum buildings stand directly on the site of the Roman BREMETENNACUM, an important fort on the crossroads of military routes to York, Manchester, Carlisle and the Fylde coast.

Star objects include a superb cavalry tombstone, a fine copy of the famous Ribchester Helmet and a wealth of other carved stones, inscriptions, pottery, coins and evidence of everyday life in the fort and the surrounding area.

WHO ARE THE FRIENDS?

We are an organisation who provide a focus and forum for anybody interested in Roman History, especially that of Roman Ribchester.

We help the Museum to preserve and promote its unique and outstanding collection of locally found Roman artefacts.

We work closely with the Museum Curator in publicising the Museum and its attractions, such as organising children's craft and activity days during the school holidays.

We organise an annual programme of events and activities for our members, including talks, field-walking, excavations and social events.
